

Altitude Water's

Disaster Relief Trailers:

Transforming Effective Response

Altitude Water's AWG Disaster Relief Trailer

Altitude Matched with Nonprofit Organizations

Business Cares Disaster Relief Program connects corporations with local nonprofits to provide vital water support in times of crisis.

Support Communities Through Disaster Relief Trailer Sponsorship

Corporations can sponsor Altitude Water's mobile atmospheric water generation trailer to deliver clean drinking water to communities in need.

1 The Problem

Disasters always require water for human consumption immediately and throughout the recovery period

2 What the Trailer Delivers

Provides essential resources including water, electricity, and communication via Starlink Internet access

3 How Altitude Water Can Help

AWG Disaster Relief Trailer supplies water without plastic bottle waste

4 Cutting the Carbon Footprint

Large reduction in carbon footprint of shipping water, manufacturing plastic bottles, and replacing the need for diesel generators to continue operating

Asheville, North Carolina post Hurricane Helene

The AWG Disaster Relief Trailer

Manufactured by Altitude Water

210 gallons/day water production with the T-100 unit using Atmospheric Water Generator technology

Purification of up to 1,500 gallons/day using advanced patented Reverse Osmosis/Ozone purification

Solar panels (roof and ground) generating 12 kWh, with 5.6 kWh for operations and 6.4 kWh for battery storage

Gas generator and grid connection provide power backup during disasters

Starlink internet enables connectivity for up to 100 users within a 0.5-mile radius

The trailer provides clean drinking water, power, and internet during disasters. It reduces plastic waste by producing up to 210 gallons of water daily, generates solar energy for operations, and offers WiFi for up to 100 users, ensuring vital communication and resources when needed most.

Maui Solution...

Maui, Hawaii (2023)

Altitude Water partnered with Noah's Arc Foundation to provide emergency clean drinking water to first responders and communities affected by devastating wildfires on the island. Local collaborations ensured logistical support and long-term water security.

Asheville Solution...

Asheville, North Carolina (2024)

Altitude Water built a trailer for the nonprofit Mind Army to support disaster relief in South Florida. After Hurricane Helene, the trailer was deployed to Perry, FL, and Asheville, NC, with logistics and placement managed by Footprint Project. Grassroots Aid Partnership utilized the trailer in downtown areas to provide 1,000 meals per day, along with electricity and Wi-Fi. The collaboration was featured in news stories by NBC 6 Miami and Fox Carolina.

Maka, Cameroon Solution...

Maka, Cameroon (2024)

Altitude Water partnered with the nonprofits Aquavera (funding partner) and the Jean-Felicien Gacha Foundation (on-the-ground support with 25 years of experience providing training and care) to build a Water Hub in the remote village of Maka, Cameroon. Using funds from the L'Oreal Water Sustainability Fund, they transformed a barren piece of land into a facility that provides 1,000 gallons of water per day, electricity, Wi-Fi, and a classroom for skill development, benefiting nearly 1,000 villagers.

Sponsorship Benefits for Your Company

Business Cares connects companies like yours with local nonprofit organizations to create meaningful community impact. By partnering with nonprofits already making a difference, your company can amplify their efforts and contribute to positive change in your region. Through our program, Altitude Water manufactures the AWG Disaster Relief Trailer, which you lease from IFSC. You then loan the trailer to a nonprofit organization, enabling immediate responses to community needs. This partnership delivers both social impact and tangible business benefits, allowing your company to be a catalyst for local change.

Sponsorship Benefits for Your Company
